

2011 BC COUNCIL FOR EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN SPRING WORKSHOP

TEACHING STUDENTS TO SELF REGULATE

Presented by Leslie Burgess

Friday, April 1, 2011

9:00am – 3:30pm

St. Patrick's Elementary, School Gym
2850 Quebec St., Vancouver, BC

Many children with ASD have difficulty recognizing and understanding their own emotions, let alone those of others. In addition, they may lack the ability to express their emotions at an age appropriate level. Interventions specifically targeting the development of emotional regulation skills are not nearly as common as those that target communication or social skills development, yet an inability to regulate one's emotions has a huge impact on his or her ability to be successful in social, school and work settings. During this session, Leslie Burgess will be sharing some specific proven strategies to help assist students and those working alongside them.

Who Should Attend:

This workshop is designed for educators, paraeducators, therapists, related practitioners, as well as parents or family members.

School based teams are encouraged to come together to enhance the learning outcomes of your students (i.e. classroom teacher, paraeducator, resources teacher, and administrators.)

About the BC Council for Exceptional Children

Since its inception, BC CEC has advocated for students with exceptionalities—those with disabilities and special challenges as well as those with gifts and talents. BC CEC is committed to individuals who work with students with exceptionalities—educators, support personnel and parents—recognizing that these dedicated people require tools, resources and professional opportunities to perform their jobs well. BC CEC supports these individuals by providing educational workshops and conferences on leading best practices throughout the year.

BC CEC's highlight each year is the YES I CAN! Awards celebration to recognize the outstanding achievements of students with exceptionalities in British Columbia. Students from around the province are recognized in one of nine different categories: academics, arts, athletics, community service, employment, extracurricular activities, independent living skills, self-advocacy and technology. BC CEC is thrilled to be able to share in the pride and joy of families and friends of the Yes I Can winners each year. Consider nominating a student you know.
