"As life takes its turns you might wish for another, or a different road you could make, it's the road that we travel and the bumps that we take and the swerves that we need to handle, caring for all children is our mission for you, we'll get you thru the day.
What children need, you can surely see, it's here you'll find the cure.

"We have browsed these rooms many times before, and never found the key, it's the hardest of hardships and that empty feeling that you get when you've lost your health, your fears are revealed and your tears seem to tumble as you search thru the ruins in your life, just to find in the corner of that lonely room, a teacup filled with you...
